MEMORANDUM FOR: Lieutenant General Lee M. Paschall, USAF
Director, Defense Communications Agency
Washington, D.C. 20305

SUBJECT : NPIC-Pentagon Microwave Link

REFERENCES : A. Letter from Director, DCA to CIA, dated 18 August 1976
B. Letter from Director, DCA to CIA, dated 24 March 1977

1. Reference A formally offered CIA shared use of an existing DCA/DIA NPIC-Pentagon microwave link in lieu of installation of a separate link in the CIA Headquarters Area Transmission System (HATS). The proposal was based on excess capacity in the NPIC-Pentagon link. During initial discussions, CIA agreed to assume direct costs of necessary baseband equipments to interface the system, anticipating that Operation and Maintenance (O&M) costs would be shared on a pro rata basis by all three Agencies.

2. We have reviewed Reference B proposal that CIA alone operate this link. We conclude that the system capacity far exceeds our needs. Further, it appears it will be increasingly costly to operate and maintain the aging, unique prototype equipment. Therefore, we must respectfully decline your offer.
